

Schimenti Construction participates in Grand Opening of Landmark Theatres project in New York City

Construction completed at West Side Highway site.

RIDGEFIELD, CT_ Schimenti Construction will participate in the Grand Opening ceremonies of the Landmark Theatres at VIA 57 West, a mixed-use building at West 57th Street near the West Side Highway.

The venue will host a series of events leading up to the Sept. 14 Grand Opening which features the premiere of “Mother” featuring Academy Award winner Jennifer Lawrence. There will be an Open House on Sept. 12 for a public viewing of the space and a VIP event on the evening of Sept. 13.

The venue is home to eight state-of-the-art theatres.

“It is extremely rewarding for our group to be part of this project with Landmark Theatres,” said Schimenti Project Executive Jeff Hogan. “We look forward to the Grand Opening events and the chance to see this space come to life.”

The new theatres will feature stadium seating, theatres ranging from 22 seats to 170 seats, a custom bar and concessions with bronze, etched brass and solid wood finishes. The theatres will also feature laser projectors, leather electric recliner seats, and acoustical murals from Germany.

Mark Cuban and Todd Wagner’s Landmark Theatres is America’s largest theatre circuit dedicated to independent film, foreign language cinema, restored classics and documentaries. Since its founding in 1974, Landmark has grown to 56 theatres, 269 screens in 27 markets. Landmark is known for both its award-winning historic theatres, such as the Tivoli in St. Louis and its more contemporary theatres, including the flagship theatre, The Landmark, in Los Angeles.
